“ So sorry about Jerry. He was a good guy. We liked him when he first got to Big Springs and enjoyed him working at the bar. Loved his dog, Bones, too. We used to take Bones for runs at night when Jerry was working and stop at home to give him treats. He always liked that. One night he met up with a skunk and got too close. We took him back to the bar and Jerry just laughed.

Barry and Jerry also had guns in common and used to go to gun shows and auctions together. After Jerry got sick, Barry would go out and see him at his house. He liked people to stop by and visit. He knew he was pretty sick and came to terms with that. Will miss them both. RIP Jerry.
